

Ashley Chin

While relatively new to the world of firearms instruction, Ashley Chin joined FRC in March of 2022 with over 30 years of experience in teaching multiple subjects to multiple ages, from kindergarten through college. A lifelong learner, Ashley actively pursues continuing education in the area of firearms and general self-defense. Not only has she trained with local NRA Training Counselors, Bill Long and FRC's John Hanchey, but she has trained with nationally recognized instructors Tatiana Whitlock, John Murphy (FPF Training), Greg Ellifritz (Active Response Training), John Correia (Active Self Protection), Samuel Middlebook (Redhawk Firearms Training and Active Self Protection), Brian Hill (The Complete Combatant), and Scott Jedlinsky (Modern Samurai Project). Ashley loves working with women who are new to pistol training at FRC's very popular Ladies Night every Thursday. She holds the following certifications: NRA Basic Pistol Instructor, NRA Personal Protection Inside Home, NRA Personal Protection Outside the Home, NRA Range Safety Officer, Image Based Decisional Drills Instructor, Active Self Protection Certified Instructor.
